Work Experience

Sapient Corporation Bangalore

Full Time job
Since July 2011

- ✓ Underwent extensive training in Trading and risk management with significant exposure to financial and commodity markets. On the technology front, I underwent training to strengthen my OOPS concepts on C++/Java, relational Databases, Linux. Post training I started working for Citi Commodities as an Energy trading and risk management developer on Openlink Endur. Gained strong domain knowledge due to my involvement in various key projects with the Citi Commodities division. I also learnt AVS/JVS scripting which are programming languages used in Endur to develop critical tasks and workflows. I have also run the End of day for Citi Commodities which has helped me understand the complete picture of trading life cycle. My strong communication skills and extrovert attitude have let me interact with some of the key traders, ops executives and Middle office executives at Citi and also helped me develop a good rapport with them. With nearly two years of experience in the account, I feel I can closely associate the business requirements and expectations with quality technological solutions and work very closely with a diversified team spread across traders, operations, finance, accounting, etc.

National Institute Of Technology, Durgapur

Final Year B-Tech Project
August 2010 to April, 2011
